I am over 55 years old and am planning to sell my property. How much do I need to refund to my CPF account?

When you sell your property, you will need to refund the CPF principal amount you withdrew with the accrued interest (P+I). If you have pledged the property to meet your retirement sum, you will also need to refund the pledged amount on top of the P+I. The refunded amount will be used to top up your Retirement Account, up to your Full Retirement Sum. You can find out the amount to be refunded by checking your
